Call for Curators and Programming

The I-195 Redevelopment District (District) is seeking proposals from curators, event organizers, and those interested in community programming for Providence Innovation District Park's (Park) 2023 events season.

The following questions and answers were conveyed during a non-mandatory virtual information session on March 6, 2023.

Question 1: Is asking for donations allowed under the grant?

Answer 1: Yes, it is permitted.

Question 2: What is a typical event time?

Answer 2: The District will work with event organizers to determine event run times that are suitable for both parties. Event organizers should think about what timeframe they feel will best serve their program or event. If an event is proposed near the Guild Beer Garden, it is suggested that organizers consult the Guild's hours of operation.

Question 3: What are some options to display art?

Answer 3: There are many different options for displaying art in the Park. Park staff will discuss with event organizers what options are best suited for a project depending on the specifications of the art. Past methods have included using a projector and screen, sandwich boards, or easels if they are properly secured and weighed down. The Park can be windy, so another option is the also utilize pop-up tents with siding to block the wind.

Question 4: Do we need to be mindful of the Providence Flea?

Answer 4: It is possible to host an event in the Park during the same time the flea market is taking place. The Providence Flea takes place on South Water Street near the Park's east side. Park Staff will work with event organizers to determine a site plan and time frame that works for both events.

The following questions were conveyed via email prior to March 6, 2023.

Question 5: Do you have a sense on how long the review process for grant applications take?

Answer 5: Park staff tries to review applications within 2-3 weeks upon receipt.
